WHO TOOK THE PICTURE

■ It's Keion. The material this time has a manga version feel rather than the anime version. The anime version of the school festival is still in the future; however, I expect there will be panties!! And I wonder how far the anime will take it. Azusa's turn feels unlikely, doesn't it.

A side glance at long black hair,
the frail Kagawa

■Postscript■

And in conclusion, this was our Keion! book.
 There's no Ui-onee-chan! The title is kinda similar!
 The title is from the ED song.
 Like a dunce, I wanted to find meaning to it, but nevertheless, here is our Keion!, with a so-called loose feeling to it ~ very lax!
 And, whoever you are! you want to see it, don't you... Nooo...
 You want to see Mio-chan in an embarrassing form!
 Mio-chan doesn't want any of your so-called desires like that!
 Well, I had contradicting feelings but... Sorry for the dream ending ~
 Because I drew a lot of bashful scenes, I'm satisfied.
 Having drawn it, the affinity for the manga's drawings might be quite high.
 However, I like the character designs of the anime, too.
 There's that irresistible method of the falling bundle of hair.
 Even the small creature system movements are good.
 Admiration is exactly that.
 The way the anime Mio-chan's eyes are drawn is almost the way the manga Azu-nyan's are drawn, different in subtlety with a somewhat troubled facial expression.
 I definitely recommend to buy the manga, because you'll never have any problems even before the anime is over! It's cute!
 Better still, see it after reading it, then read it again after seeing it! This, I recommend.
 But, if Mio-chan entered the literature club in the beginning as is, what in the world kind of cool poems would she be churning out... or what doujinshi would the literature club pick up, or would the literature they pick up be embarrassing ~ I'm over stressing from imagining.
 I look forward to the anime's future development, too ♪
 It seems Azu-nyan might not appear, doesn't it...
 She is considerably a favorite, nevertheless... Azu-nyan~

Let's meet again at the next opportunity.
 Does the 50th book seem impossible within this year? This has been Yano-chi.
